JANUARY    MARCH    MAY    JULY    SEPTEMBER    NOVEMBER
FEBRUARY    APRIL    JUNE    AUGUST    OCTOBER    DECEMBER

10 FOR 2005

DEDICATED TO THE PILOTS WHO MAKE THE DREAM OF FLIGHT POSSIBLE

NOW YOU'VE DONE IT!

The EAA Young Eagles program, the world's most successful youth aviation initiative ever, registered its 1.2 millionth Young Eagle flown on December 8, 2005, at EAA headquarters in Oshkosh, Wisconsin. To put that into perspective, it represents approximately 240 young people flown for each public use airport in the country!

During 2005, we faced some interesting challenges beyond our control. Despite the weather and fuel prices, nearly 91,000 Young Eagles were flown compared to 84,942 in 2004. Pilots participating in the Young Eagles program for the first time totaled more than 1,400 in 2005 compared with 1,300-plus in 2004. Another piece of good news is that the number of Young Eagles flown per pilot has increased as well.

This outstanding support and enthusiasm for the Young Eagles program by EAA volunteers is nothing short of amazing. Your commitment to the mission of introducing young people to the world of flight is a testament to your passion for aviation and its future. That's precisely why it's such an honor to present the names of those pilots who took the challenge of flying "10 in 2005" and helped make the Young Eagles program an absolute success. In addition, I extend my congratulations to everyone who helped the program reach this unprecedented level of participation—pilots, coordinators, ground volunteers, and supporters.

Thank you all for your support of the program, your hard work, and the dedication you've put forth as we aim for the 1.3 million mark in 2006!

Sincerely,
Steve Buss
Executive Director, EAA Young Eagles Program

While tens of thousands of volunteers continue to make EAA Young Eagles a successful program, there were several in 2005 who deserve special recognition.

Barbara Goodwin, Horizon Award

Goodwin of Kalamazoo, Michigan, reached out to local education groups to extend the Young Eagles program's reach—a major reason she was chosen for the Horizon Award. She's also done aviation workshops for Michigan educators, bringing in Young Eagles materials and encouraging teachers to visit their local airports to check into the opportunity for free flights.

Elaine and Ralph Phillips, Outstanding Ground Volunteers

The Phillipses of Lake City, Florida, call and thank each volunteer after every event. "For those who go over and beyond the call of duty, I even bake them a big brownie, either round or heart-shaped, that says 'thanks' and their name," recalls Elaine. Elaine also thanks businesses and others who donate items for the event, as well as the media, the school principals, and others who helped to spread the word. After their flight, they give children a picture of the airplane and the pilot to keep as a souvenir.

Kirk Foecking, Chapter Coordinator

Foecking of Galena, Illinois, has flown 50 Young Eagles. Since becoming Chapter coordinator, EAA Chapter 75 has given 2,378 Young Eagles flights. Besides helping to connect pilots who want to give flights with children who want to take to the air, Foecking also organizes Chapter pilots to take advantage of pilot credits and sending youth to EAA's Air Academy.

Carol MacCabe, Field Representative

MacCabe began with the program in the Chicago-area Young Eagles operations as a ground volunteer. The Rolling Meadows, Illinois, resident became a field representative three years ago. "I basically try to work with the Chapter and Chapter coordinators and people who are interested in getting involved with the Young Eagles program," she says. "I then pair kids with Chapters. I'm basically a goodwill ambassador for the program."

2005—A LOOK BACK

JANUARY      FEBRUARY      MARCH      APRIL      MAY      JUNE      JULY      AUGUST      SEPTEMBER      OCTOBER      NOVEMBER      DECEMBER

The EAA Young Eagles program provides young people ages 8–17 in more than 90 countries around the world with free plane rides to introduce them to the world of aviation. 2005 saw an increase in participation by 7 percent with an average of nearly 250 Young Eagles added to the World's Largest Logbook every day of the year.

Extreme Makeover

One of the highlights of 2005 was an “extreme makeover” of EAA’s Young Eagles Glastar airplane, courtesy of Glasair aviation. Some of the upgrades included new main gear legs and fairings, a new fuel system, new windows, a refurbished interior, and a complete exterior paint scheme. A total of 31 improvements were made to the aircraft representing a contribution of $35,000 to the Young Eagles program. The airplane is based at the EAA AirVenture Museum’s Pioneer Airport and has been responsible for providing thousands of Young Eagles with flight experiences during the summer months.

Young Eagles Website

The new Young Eagles website (www.youneagles.org) was up and running on April 1, 2005. Filled with news, information, aviation photos, videos, interactive games, a web cam, EAA youth program information, and fun facts, the website is a huge success for the Young Eagles program. The site also includes an area designed for parents and a separate section for Young Eagles volunteers.

EAA Youth Art Competition

Aaron Mentkowski, 17, of Bay Village, Ohio, was chosen from more than 200 entries in the EAA 2005 Youth Art Competition. His design was painted on EAA’s other Glastar aircraft. Planning someday to be a military pilot, Aaron said he worked on his design for two weeks. But once he got the design down, he completed it in two days. His complex design was translated to the Glastar’s shape by Scheme Designers of New Jersey, which used computer technology to convert the artwork. Gulfstream of Appleton, Wisconsin, provided the expertise to paint the actual aircraft using the specifications from Scheme Designers. All of the entries are available in a special section of the EAA Young Eagles website www.youneagles.org/activity\_gallery/gallery.asp

Gathering of Eagles

The 20th annual Gathering of Eagles event held during EAA AirVenture Oshkosh 2005 was a sellout affair with nearly 800 people in attendance. “A Day on the Set with Harrison Ford” was the top auction item of the evening, commanding a $50,000 bid that demonstrated EAA members’ thanks to Harrison Ford for committing his time and passion to the Young Eagles program.

Illinois Couple Honored by Phillips 66 Aviation

John and Sue Durbin, who have introduced more than 600 young people to the joy and wonder of flight, were presented with the Phillips 66 Aviation Leadership Award for their work with the EAA Young Eagles program. Since 1997, the Durbins have been Young Eagles co-coordinators for EAA Chapter 274 based in Decatur, Illinois. Together, they have made Young Eagles a priority in their life and have worked diligently toward providing nearly 4,000 central Illinois children with a memorable first flight.

More than 1.2 million young people have received an airplane ride through the Young Eagles Program

ENCORE! HARRISON FORD— EAGLES CHAIR

Actor, pilot, EAA member, and Young Eagles flight leader Harrison Ford has agreed to return as EAA Young Eagles program chairman for another two years he announced to an enthusiastic crowd and resounding applause during a Theater in the Woods presentation at EAA AirVenture Oshkosh 2005. When asked by EAA Young Eagles Executive Director Steve Buss during the onstage presentation whether he would consider another two-year stint, Ford responded, "Nothing would please me more." Ford has chaired the EAA Young Eagles program since 2004 and has flown more than 200 Young Eagles.

Among Ford's roles as EAA Young Eagles chairman, he helped lead the July 28, 2005, EAA Gathering of Eagles dinner and auction, an event that raised funds to support EAA Young Eagles and EAA's other youth-inspiration and education initiatives.

EAA AIR ACADEMY

NEW PROGRAMS, NEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUTHS

Since 1984, the EAA Air Academy has hosted thousands of students from throughout the world. Supervised and administered by top-notch aviation instructors and craftspeople, camp offerings include EAA Young Eagles camp, EAA Basic Air Academy, and EAA Advanced Academy.

A total of 263 participants joined in Air Academy programs during 2005, arriving from 35 states, plus Washington, D.C., and Ontario, Canada. Of these children, 168 were sponsored by EAA Chapters or Squadrons, individual EAA members, and philanthropic foundations. EAA Chapters sent 136 of them, many using the popular EAA Young Eagles credit program, either for their candidate or to help fund the scholarships of those without Chapter sponsorship.

For more information on the EAA Air Academy, visit www.airacademy.org or call 920/426-6815.

EAA AEROSCHOLARS

NEW PROGRAMS, NEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUTHS

EAA's AeroScholars course enables high school students to earn high school or college credits. Students who successfully complete the Aviation Science Fundamentals and Advanced Aviation Science courses are authorized to take the FAA private pilot knowledge test. Students have 17 weeks to complete each course, or 10 weeks during the summer session. Enrollment includes an EAA student membership, while the courses provide opportunities for non-virtual experiences such as taking flight lessons, visiting a weather station, or attending an EAA Chapter meeting.

AeroScholars participation by high school students increased 100 percent during 2005. Students from 34 states were involved, and three states are currently in the process of offering AeroScholars on a statewide basis through their Virtual School.

For a free demo of the AeroScholars online aviation course, visit www.aeroscholars.com.

“I love the layout of this class! It really adds to the experience. The more interactive it is, the more I like it.”
